SCHOOL LEVY TO BE SAME

LOCAL BOARD SETS APRIL 6 AS VOTING DATE.

ONE POLLING PLACE

Basement of Library is Designated—Nominees for Director to Be Named April 2

The regular levy for maintenance of the Marville public schools will be submitted to the people of this school district at the school election to be held on Tuesday, April 6, it was decided at a meeting of the board of education held this morning. The levy is six mills on the dollar and is the same as has been voted for a number of years. It is in addition to the levy of four mills authorized by law.

The board designated the city hall, in the basement of the library building, as the polling place for the school election. No city election is to be held this year and it was decided that one polling place would be sufficient. The judges of the election are E. V. Condon, W. A. Tindall and C. J. Eckert.

In addition to voting for the school levy of six mills, two members of the school board will be elected. The two nominees will be selected at a mass meeting of the voters to be held at the courthouse on the evening of April 2. The terms of E. E. Williams and L. E. Forsyth will expire as members of the board. Mr. Forsyth was appointed a member to succeed C. C. Hellmers, who resigned on account of his removal to Lincoln, Neb. Believe Still May Have Caused Fire

Regarding the origin of the fire which, Saturday night, destroyed the Wolfers mill at Hopkins, with a loss of approximately $20,000, this week's Hopkins Journal has the following:

The origin of the fire is unknown. You can hear a hundred different theories. An oil stove and some barrel hoops were found in the debris, making some believe a still had been in operation, causing the fire. Others think the fire may have started from the stump of a cigar thrown down by someone who had been playing cards in the mill, but the general opinion is it was purposly set on fire, incendirasim being a disease with some men. A determined effort is to be made to run down the guilty party or parties.

Starmer Withdraws From Mayor's Race

St. Joseph Man Will Not Enter Democratic Primary But May Run As Independent.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 11.—George G. Starmer, president of the board of public works, late yesterday withdrew as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor of St. Joseph. Simultaneously he announced he was considering making the race on an independent ticket.

Starmer's withdrawl leaves Louis V. Stigall, attorney, as the only announced Democratic candidate for the nomination. In the event no other candidate files by Friday noon, a mayorality primary, scheduled for March 16, will be called off.

Starmer explained he was withdrawing as a candidate ''because I cannot accept the program of the committee and will not bind myself to support a candidate nominated by such a procedure.'' He referred to the primary election plan adopted by the committee March 6, designating only one voting place in each of ten wards in the city.

TWO MORE 4-H CLUBS FORMED

TIME FOR ORGANIZATION IS AT HAND, FLEETWOOD.

EXPECT MANY OTHERS

Work Has Been Going on in Nodaway County for Five Years With Success.

Organization of two 4-H clubs in the Rockford community was completed yesterday by J. Ross Fleetwood, county extension agent. One of these is a sow and litter club and is made up of boys. Eight girls make up the other which is a sewing club.

Dale Partridge and Mrs. Jerry Fisher are the local leaders who will sponsor the club work. Plans laid by the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Missouri, will be carried out in these clubs, which are the first organized since January 1.

Mr. Fleetwood said today that the time for organizing 4-H clubs is at hand and that there will likely be from six to eight other clubs formed in Nodaway County within the next two months.

Besides these two clubs the only other two actually organized are in the Myrtle Tree community and the Harmony community. Plans are now being worked out in Hopkins, Burlington Junction, Graham; where there will be three clubs, and Ravenwood.

This is the fifth year for 4-H clubs in Nodaway County. On the whole, the project has grown in every respect. Last year there were five clubs in the county.

All material for the carying on of the clubs is furnished free of charge by the extension service. Training for local leaders is also given.

In commenting on the latter, Mr. Fleetwood said today that much of the success of 4-H clubs is do to efficient local leaders, and one of the greatest of organization problems is to find efficient persons who will serve in that capacity and assist in making the work a success.

An innovation in 4-H club work this year will be a sow and litter show in St. Joseph at the same time as the baby beef show, and modeled along the same lines.

Extension specialists from the College of Agriculture who come to Maryville this year will include in their work and inspection of all 4-H clubs in the county.

Those who are members of the sow and litter club in the Rockford community are: Laverne Worl, Skidmore; Lester Reaksecker, jr., Maryville; Eugent B. Moore, Maryville; Harold Bailey, Skidmore; Marion Daken, Skidmore; Eldon Williams, Maryville; and Kenneth Evans, Maryville.

Those in the sewing club are: Evelyn Evans, Maryville; Mildred Williams, Maryville; Mary Alice Jones, Maryville; Nina Kime, Maryville; Helen Busby, Maryville; Lois Daken, Skidmore; Gladys DeWitt, Skidmore; and Dolla Belle Smith, Maryville.

The average age of the boys is 13 years and that of the girls is 14 years

The games of the tournament up to the championship and grand championship rounds will be played on the two courts in the gymnasium. These last two rounds will be played on the one large court. Seven minute quarters are being played up to the semi-final round, when they will be lengthened to 10 minutes.

The Maryville High School team will play tonight at 7:30 o'clock against the Hopkins team. This game and the one between Rosendale and New Point, providing Rosendale wins from Conception Junction, should be the high lights of tonight.

Present plans indicate that it will not be necessary to play any games tomorrow morning.

Hectic Game Ends 40-38.

The New Point-Gower game furnished the sensation of the afternoon. New Point won by a 40 to 38 score. It was a heetic game. New Point led at the end of the first quarter, 12 to 6, and at the half, 21 to 14. In the third quarter, however, McMillan, Gower forward, hit a scoring spree and the period ended with the score 27 to 26 in favor of New Point.

The fourth quarter was a nip and tuck affair, first one team leading and then the other. With 7 seconds to go, Kneale, New Point forward, shot the goal which broke the tied score and won for his team.

The line-ups:

Westboro had little difficulty with Darlington in the first game of the afternoon, winning 36 to 10. It was a steady climb for the victors, who led all the way. At the end of the first quarter, the score stood 11 to 0; at the half it was 15 to 4; at three quarters it

AGENCY YOUTH BEST SPELLER

NORMAN ST. JOHN WINS DISRICT HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST.

PARNELL GIRL THIRD

Rural Championship Goes to Clay County and Grade School Honors To Harrison.

The Winners.

High School Division: First Norman St. John, Buchanan County; second, Mildred Munkres, Holt County; third, Rachel Ingram, Nodaway County.

Elementary Division: First, Lois Cocklin, Harrison County; second, Bonidean Garrison, Gentry County; third, Charlotte Copp, Atchison County.

Rural Division: First, Charles Runyon, Clay County; second, Ruby Cotton, Holt County; third, Enid Witt, Platte County.

Norman St. John, Agency high school boy, is spelling champion of Northwest Missouri. Meeting the picked spellers from seventeen counties today in the district contest at the State Teachers College, he finished first in his class and was the only one of all the contestants to go through without missing a word.

Rachel Ingram, pride of Parnell High School, Nodaway County representative and last year's district champion, finished third.

The high school, grade and rural divisions spelled the same words, which were pronounced to them in one group. The papers, however, were graded by classes.

Words Much Harder.

The words this year were much harder than last. There were no breathing spells while long lists of easy words were pronounced. Every one was a poser.

It took only one list of 100 words to decide the grade school contest and two places in the rural division. There was a tie for third place between two rural school pupils and they spelled fifty more words. The high school contestants were given 200 words.

Lois Cocklin, who won in the grade division, missed three of the first 100 words. Miss Cocklin's home is in Ridgeway.

The second place winner, Bonidean Garrison lives in McFall. She missed five words. Charlotte Copp of Tarkio, in third place missed six words.

Honorable mention in this division was given to Irene Smith of Gallatin, Daviess County; Martha Wamsley, Cameron, Clinton County; and Frances Smith, Mound City, Holt County. They each missed eight words.

A Tie In Rural Class.

On the first 100 words in the rural contest, Charles Runyon won first by missing but four words. Ruby Cotton took second by missing but six. Enid Witt and Mildred Nally, the latter from Harrison County, each missed seven. On the spell-off, Miss Witt missed but seven of the fifty additional words, while Miss Nally missed eleven.

Four high school contestants survived the first round of 100 words missing none. The beginning of the second round saw St. John, the Agency boy, pitted against three girls. He did not falter. Writing earnestly, he spelled the second hundred words without a miss. Miss Munkres, Mound City's representative, missed but one, and Miss Ingram missed five. Honorable mention went to Verla Minor of Santa Rosa, DeKalb County.

Each of the winners received gold, silver and bronze medals respectively for first, second and third places, and the counties which furnished the first place winners were awarded banners.

The High School Entries.

The entries in the high school contest, by counties, was as follows:

Nodaway, Rachel Ingram, Parnell; Grundy, Elsie Louderback, Spickard, taking the place of Mary Tolle, Galt; Livingston, Fay Hopper, Utica; DeKalb, Verla Minor, Santa Rosa; Andrew, Agnes Irwin, Helena; Worth, no high school entry; Buchanan, Norman St. John, Agency; Platte, Anita Linville, Parkville; Harrison, no high school entry; Mercer, Harry Oliver, Princeton taking the place of Selva Cunningham.

Many Newspapers Are Taking Dry Law Polls

Country Now Engaged In Most Extensive Referendum On National Policy Ever Attempted.

New York, March 11.—The country is now engaged in the most extensive referendum on a question of national policy ever attempted—the newspaper polls on prohibition.

More than 400 newspapers from coast to coast and from Canada to Mexico are taking straw ballots in their communities to sound out sentiment.

Dry leaders have warned prohibitionists not to vote, charging the poll is not representative, that it is dominated by wets who are not in sympathy with the present law.

AN INQUIRY IN TARIFF BOARD

SENATE SUB-COMMITTEE TO CONDUCT INVESTIGATION.

WOULD GOVERN MINES

Wheeler Calls Situation ''Intolerable''—Anti-Mexico Resolution Introduced—Wets Gain Point.

Washington, March 11.—The Senate today ordered a special investigation of the United States tariff commission. There was no record vote.

The inquiry will be conducted by a committee of five instead of by the finance committee as originally proposed by Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas.

Washington, March 11.—Immediate withdrawal of diplomatic recognition of Mexico by the United States was provided under a resolution introduced in the House today by Representative Boylan, Democrat of New York.

''The President,'' the resolution said, ''should withdraw diplomatic recognition of Mexico until such time as the policies and conduct of the government in relation to educational and religious institutions of all creeds and nationalities justify a resumption of relations.''

Washington, March 11.—Declaring that an ''intolerable situation'' existed in the American coal industry, Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, this afternoon sponsored a bill authorizing nationalization of all anthracite mines in time of emergency.

The bill would create a federal anthracite corporation with authority to seize and operate the hard coal mines in event of strike.

Washington, March 11.—The drive from Senate wets for public hearings on proposals to modify the prohibition law came one step nearer its goal today when the Senate judiciary committee voted to turn the question over to a sub-committee for decision, the sub-committee to be named by Senator Albert Cummins, Republican of Iowa.

The sub-committee will hold private hearings upon all measures now before the Senate seeking modification of prohibition and render a report to the full committee. A final decision then will be reached upon the question of holding public hearings.

Washington, March 11.—The McFadden bill, equalizing taxation of national banks by the state to conform with divergent state laws was favorably reported today by the House banking and currency committee.

The measure provides four means of legal national bank taxation by states. Imposition of any one of them excludes individuals and corporation from paying the other three. The forms are: A tax on national bank stock, tax on dividends or personal or net incomes.

Washington, March 11.—There will be no legislation at this session for either compulsory or voluntary consolidation of railroads into a few great system, it was predicted today by Senator Watson, Republican of Indiana, after a conference with President Coolidge at the White House.

Watson indicated that lack of time Nickel Plate decision would stay the rather than hesitancy because of the action of Congress.

Government Bonds Are Now All Subscribed

BRIAND HOPES FOR HARMONY

FRENCH PREMIER DETERMINED TO SAVE LOCARNO.

SURE OF CONFIDENGE

Briand, Upon Arrival At Geneva, Says France Backs Him In His Role Of Mediator At Session.

Geneva, March 11.—Aristide Briand is determined not to let the League of Nations dispute develop into any general European discord, he told the International News upon his arrival here from Paris today.

The French premier showed plainly the signs of the great strain he has undergone.

''The era of European peace is now beginning. It began at Locarno and nothing must happen to check it,'' said the premier.

''Before leaving Paris, I conferred with the president of the republic, the presidents of the Senate and Chamber and I am certain that I have the confidence of the French people, and the interests I will defend here are really those of France,'' said M. Briand.

This afternoon Briand was to attempt the role of mediator before the secret session of the League Council. The deadlock no longer appears to center around Germany, France and Great Britain. It is apparently due to the unyielding attitude of Sweden and Brazil.

Trial for Fifth Time on Charge of Robbery

Brother of "Jelly Roll" Hogan, St. Louis Gangster Leader, Has Long Delay Record.

Union, Mo., March 11.—James B. Hogan, brother of Edward J. (''Jelly Roll'') Hogan, leader of the Hogan gang of St. Louis, was scheduled to go on trial here today for the fifth time on a charge of robbing a negro messenger of the North St. Louis Savings Trust Co., five years ago.

At the first trial Hogan was convicted and sentenced to fifteen years. The prosecution was permitted to put policemen on the stand to testify that Eirr Pillow, the bank messenger had identified Hogan as one of the bandits.

For this reason, the Supreme Court ordered a new trial which resulted in a hung jury, as did two subsequent trials.

Following the fourth trial, a grand jury investigation was made to determine whether the jury failed to reach a verdict but no indictment was returned.

Report U. S. May Ask Abandonment

Government Is Said To Be Seeking Another Plan Of Settling Tacna-Arica Boundary Dispute.

Washington, March 11.—Reports that the American government is considering abandonment of the plebiscitary plan for settling the Tacna-Arica boundary dispute between Peru and Chili and is endeavoring to find another means of adjusting the ancient controversy could neither be confirmed or denied here today.

The state department did not comment.

Arrested, Yet French Leaves for Capital

Contempt Of Court Proceedings Filed In Connection With Test Of Recent State Law.

Kirksville, March 11.—Although technically under arrest, State Finance Commissioner C. E. French actually left here today for his office in Jefferson City. Contempt of court is the charge against French, brought in connection with the test of a recent state law which would require the finance commissioner to furnish information about banks under his jurisdiction in civil as well as criminal suits.

Sentence on the charge was put off by a writ of habeas corpus, asked for by assistant attorney-general Frank who accompanied French here to take the necessary legal steps to free the finance commissioner.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

Washington—Having dug up some more evidence and a little money the redoubtable Colonel James A. Ownbey of Colorado, who tried to keep the Senate from confirming President Coolidge's appointment of Harlan F. Stone to the federal supreme bench, is back in Washington again, still very much on the warpath.

In fact, more so. At any rate, he's more formidable, being better heeled financially.

He expects to increase the size of his wad, too. Every additional dollar he gets his hands on will be just that much more ammunition for him. "I'll be a millionaire again before I die," he assured me. The colonel's only 72.

Colonel Ownbey was so sore when the Senate confirmed Stone, that he declared he was going to quit the United States cold, renounce his citizenship and spend the rest of his life elsewhere.

But he soon realized that that wasn't what he really wanted to do. He really wanted to stop here and go on fighting.

He was broken, however, and warfare calls for money. So the colonel pitched in and in a year he cleaned up $15,000 as a mining expert, which isn't so bad for a man of his number of summers.

The colonel's hostility toward Stone is incidental to his sentiments concerning a litigation in which the present supreme justice's then firm of Satterlee, Canfield & Stone appeared as counsel against him for the estate of the late J. P. Morgan, Sr.

Birmingham, Ala., had a saxophone contest, but the winner escaped.

Says Ignorance Costs More Than Education

Governor Sam Baker Tells Of Various Positions He Has Held And Advises Scmes Definite Goal.

Mexico, Mo, March 11.—"Education costs, but ignorance costs more," Governor Sam A. Baker told high school students here.

"As a farm boy," the governor reminisced, "I taught an orphan calf to drink from a pail; as a section hand, the ring of the spike maul against the steel spike made some of the sweetest music I ever heard, and as a lumber grader in the camps and mills I have gone through varied experiences.

"As a country postoffice clerk, it seemed to me I was licking all the stamps in our section of the country," the governor continued. "Successively since that time I have been a country school teacher, a village teacher, city superintendent, a state superintendent of schools, and now for the past year, governor of our state of Missouri, but I have not yet seen any boy or girl who wanted to stand among their fellows as the peer of all men, who could not accomplish this by setting out toward their goal with might and main," Governor Baker concluded.

Radio Conference Is Delayed Until Autumn

Although State Department Refuses To Make Comment, It Is Thought Nations Withheld Support.

Washington, March 11 (United Press)—The international radio conference scheduled to meet in Washington this spring, has been indefinitely delayed.

Though state department officials declined to comment today, it is understood that major nations among the 45 invited are withholding their support.

Because of a conflicting international telegraph conference called by France, the Washington conference was postponed first last spring and again last autumn.

American officials, however, will continue their preparatory work, convinced that difficulties arising out of the existing radio convention of 1912 will soon induce all governments concerned to co-operate in a new agreement here.

Next autumn has been set informally as the date for the conference, for which congress has already voted $92,000.

The agenda will include revision of the 1912 London international radio-telegraph convention, international supervision of radio communication between large fixed stations, broadcasting, radio telephony, elimination of interference, radio aids to navigation, and purposes for which radio has been used as a result of development of the art since 1912.

Crap Game Earnings Listed by Taxpayer

Most Unusual Return Received At Denver Revenue Office Gives Regular Business As "Clerk."

Denver, Colo., March 11.—The most unusual income tax return ever received by F. D. Howbert, local collector of internal revenue, was received today when a man, whose name and address he refused to divulge, listed $30,000 earnings last year from crap games, and paid a tax thereon of approximately $1,000.

In spite of this enormous profit at gambling, the man gave his regular business as a clerk with a salary of $2,000 annually.

Howbert said that his branch of the government is not interested in how a man earns his money, but how much he earns.

Valuable Violins Are Discovered by Owners

Mt. Vernon, Ill., March 11.—A number of genuine Stradivarious violins, ranging in age from 189 to 216 years and worth fabulous sums, have come to light here in the last ten days.

The violins were discovered by their owners to be of the valuable make after publication of a story in a local paper, which reported a similar find in Herrin, Ill. The genuiness of five of the distinguishing marks which the violins bear.

The five are inscribed with the name "Antonius Stradivarius," and the city and date of manufacture.

Gives Advice to Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Used daily, externally, it soothes the nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally it makes childbirth a joy!

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 34, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Annie Kwinski of 526 1st Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes that she became so weak and run-down that she was not able to do her housework. She saw the name Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and said to her husband, "I will try that medicine and see if it will help me." She says she took six bottles and is feeling much better.

Mrs. Mattie Adams, who lives in Downing Street, Brewton, Ala., writes as follows: "A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and since taking it I feel like a different woman."

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grand-children, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women past fifty, say they owe their vigor and health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are recommending it to their friends and neighbors.

You can almost feel RHEUMATISM disappear!

S. S. S. helps Nature build back your blood to fighting strength—builds red-blood-cells by the millions! Red blood purifies the system — rheumatism is driven right out.

Get this wonderful relief yourself! Thousands are doing it! S. S. S. has been stopping rheumatism by building up red cells in the blood for generations. It will do the same for you.

S. S. S. also cleanses your skin of blemishes—increases your appetite—puts power and strength and energy in your body. Get S. S. S. today from any druggist. The larger bottle is more economical.

Fairview Wants Billy Miles Next Sheriff

The Journal's Fairview correspondent this wek, pays Deputy Sheriff Billy Miles a nice compliment, deciding that he is the right man to become sheriff when Mr. Campbell is through with the job.

Now, we do not vote the same ticket that Billy does, but we want to add that he is all wool and a yard wide when it comes to running down criminals and enforcing the law, and if elevated to the sheriffship, no one would have reason to complain for the office not being properly filled. Billy is as clean as a hound's tooth, going about his business in a quiet, assuming manner, never looking for trouble but ready to fight his weight in wild cats if the occasion requires.—Hopkins Journal.

Thirty-four teams were at the gymnasium for the drawing at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Bethany was the only Class A team not present, while New Hampton, Fairfax, Worth, and Harmoney was absent in the Class B roster. As some of these teams were reported mired in the mud between their homes and Maryville, it was decided that they should be allowed to play if they arrive later than their first scheduled game.

Later in the afternoon word was received that Bethany, Fairfax, and New Hampton would not attend the tournament, and Skidmore, Parnell, and Altamont were given their games by forfeit. Harmony arrived about the middle of the afternoon.

FEAR BRAZIL TO WITHDRAW

BRITISH OFFICIALS ARE NOT SO OPTIMISTIC.

EXPECTS GERMANY IN

But Loss of South American Members WWould Weaken League's Influ- Would Weaken League's Influence—Votes Berlin Eligible.

London, March 11.—The optimism over the League of Nations impasse, which has prevailed here, was not so evident today.

There is the danger of Brazil withdrawing from the League and possibly taking other Latin American members with her, it was admitted in official circles after dispatches had been received from the British delegation at Geneva.

No nation is likely to veto Germany's entrance into the League Council, it was said, but the influence of the League in South America is apt to be lessened by the withdrawl of Brazil.

Geneva, March 11.—The political commission of the League of Nations assembly, meeting today under the presidency of Sir Austen Chamberlain, unanimously adopted a report of the subcommittee that Germany is eligible to membership in the League.

Will Attend Rites of His Brother-in-Law

W. G. Gross will go to Kansas City tomorrow to attend the funeral services of his brother-in-law, W. H. Boultt, who died at his home in that city last Friday. Mr. Boultt has frequently visited in Maryville. The funeral was delayed on account of a son being unable to come.

Mr. Boultt was chief special agent of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain. He is survived by his wife and three sons, W. H. Boultt of Cincinnati, Clarence Boultt, assistant physical culture teacher at one of the High school in Kansas City, and Whiley Boult of Kansas City.

Capital Aghast Over Gen. Butler's Efforts

Cocktail Warfare Causes Washington Society To Wonder What's Coming Next—Files Charges.

Washington, March 11—Social Washington was literally aghast today over the cocktail warfare that Brig.-Gen. Smedley D. Butler has started on the Pacific coast.

San Diego, Cal., March 11—Brig.-Gen. Smedley D. Butler has filed charges of drunkenness and conduct unbecoming an officer against Col. Alexander Williams of the San Diego marine base.

General Butler's action followed a dinner given Saturday night at Colonel Williams's home in Coronado in General Butler's honor. Cocktails, it is said, were served at the dinner, which was attended by a number of officers of the marine corps and their wives. It is said that General Butler made some comment regarding the cocktails. The charges against Colonel Williams, however, were based on a party which was held later at a hotel in Coronado, all of those at the dinner having been invited.

General Butler's charge was sent to Rear Admiral Ashley D. Robertson, commanding the eleventh naval district here. Admiral Robertson said he would send the charges to Washington for final action by the navy department.

City and County Officers at Dinner

The city, township and county officers attended a dinner held at the Roach cafe last evening. The officers present were:

Mayor W. O. Garrett, D. E. Hotchkin, city commissioner; George H. Meek, township assessor; Emmett Bartram, township collector; Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKee; Sheriff and Mrs. Lowell Campbell; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith; J. W. Qualls, Mrs. Bess Thorp, Harve England, Fred W. Smith.

It was suggested by Mr. Meek that more dinners be held of these officers so as to discuss many matters of business pertaining to their office.

Col. Coolidge Is Not Believed in Danger

Plymouth, Vt., March 11.—Col. John C Coolidge, 80-year-old father of the President, was still suffering pain but his condition showed no cause for immediate alarm, according to reports brought today from his bedside.

J. T. Carlton filed suit today in the circuit clerk's office for a note of $1,500 against G. E. Alkire and Mary E. Alkire.

The YELLOW STUB

by Ernest Lynn

COPYRIGHT 1926 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

HENRY RAND, 55, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the stub of a yellow theater ticket.

JANET RAND, his daughter, breaks her engagement with BARRY COLVIN because of the "disgrace." JIMMY RAND, his son, goes to Springfield where the theater is. The stub is traced to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL. Later he encounters Olga. She faints at hearing police want her for murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lift Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the stub might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" two nights before the murder. Jimmy receives mysterious warnings to leave Springfield and later is attacked by two men, but escapes.

Jimmy and Olga, out one night, see a man they both recognize—she as the man who got the stub, he as one of his assailants. The man escapes, but they identify him by his police picture as IKE JENSEN.

Olga, at lunch with Jimmy, tells him that Church, because she had refused to have anything to do with him, had persecuted her to the extent of causing her to lose several jobs. Jimmy suddenly realizes that Olga is in love with him, and is deeply troubled.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVI.

A long silence fell on them. The orchestra was playing that most passionate of love songs, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from "Samson and Delilah." Neither of them could utter a word; neither of them dared.

It was Olga who broke the spell cast by the music. She shrugged her shoulders and raised her hands in an airy gesture to utter a platitude, "Oh well, live and learn, Jim."

But she dabbed at her eyes with a handkerchief, and something in the action—something very brave and at once so pitiful—caught at him and wrenched him.

Then he leaned forward and held her eyes with his, talking very fast, "Olga, if I do nothing eles, I'm going to see that you get a real chance after—after things are cleared up. I've got one or two things against Sam Church myself. I think I'll make it a point to meet him and see if I can't pound a few respectable notions into his hand."

"No, don't do that, Jim," she said in alarm. "It won't do any good. Tell me what you have against him."

"Nothing that I have a right to speak about just now," he answered. "You know," he said hastily, "your experience is something like the one I've just been through."

Then he told her the circumstances under which he had lost his two positions since coming to Springfield.

"What do you make of it?" he asked. "Do you think anybody was behind it?"

"If I knew that Sam Church could possibly benefit by it I'd think he was behind it," she said positively.

"Well, I can see that perhaps he thought I was in the way the first time, but I can't understand how he could get any satisfaction out of causing me to lose this latest job."

She told him that he was being mysterious. "Why don't you explain Jim? Can't you trust me?"

"It's just this," he said, with an attempt at lightness. "I imagine that Church regarded me as a possible rival when I was working in the railroad office."

"A rival? You mean for a girl?"

He nooded. "But there was no reason why he should continue to worry about me. He's engaged to the girl now."

She said slowly, touching his hand with hers: "And you—cared for her?"

It was sometime before he answered her. "Oh well," he said miserably, "yes, I did care." He waved his hand. "But it's all over now."

"Jim, was it the girl I saw you with that night?"

His silence told her that it was.

"I saw her on the street yesterday. She stopped when she saw me and looked as if she was about to speak to me."

An eager light leaped into his eyes, at sight of which she clenched her hands till the nails left deep red marks in her flesh.

"She did?" he asked.

"Yes, but apparently she changed her mind."

A new hope charged him, and he grasped it as a starving man clutches at a piece of bread. He thought, "If she was going to speak, it was to find out—to get the explanation I never gave her."

But as swiftly as the thought had come to him he dismissed it. "She's engaged," he reasoned, "and to a man that's not good enough to be shot. There's nothing I could do." He felt as helpless as a swimmer carried along on a relentless tide.

He rose. "Come," he said to Olga. "I'll take you where you're going." He managed a laugh. "Thanks for the lunch. It's been a new experience."

"I'm going home," she told him. "Then I'll walk home with you."

He would have left her at the door, but she urged him to come into her apartment.

"You've never seen it yet, Jim. You can tell me what you think of it."

He went in with her and looked around him and admired it.

"You've got uncommonly fine taste," he told her, and failed to notice that she was trembling and biting her under lip, as if to keep herself under control.

He stuck out his hand. "Well, I'll toddle along."

"Can't you stay a while? You're in no hurry, are you?"

"I have an appointment with Barry Colvin," he lied—for the appointment was for dinner.

Olga had moved very close to him, and she laid his hands on her arms, let them creep upward to his shoulders . . . The scent of her hair was in his nostrils, like a sweet, vagrant breath of flowers on an April night.

He closed his eyes, throwing back his head, and he clenched his hands tightly, conscious that no matter what he did he was bound to hurt her.

"He's made life pretty bitter for both of us, hasn't he, Jim?" she half whispered, and raised her face to his.

And as he bent down to her kiss, his arms pressing her closely to him, he saw himself again as some cruel blunderer smashing the toy of a little child.

Before Mary Lowell's eyes the keys of her typewriter, manipulated by her nimble fingers, clicked off the sentences as she translated them from her shorthand notes.

And yet as she stopped occasionally to read them over, two words, born of a troubled mind, kept dancing before her vision. They were JIM RAND.

And in her fancy she could still see his erect, broad-shouldered figure, his smooth brown hair and level eyes, his close-cropped mustache; and beside him, always, was a slender, beautiful girl—a girl with light gold hair, and violet eyes that were cool. A girl with long black lashes and black, high-arched eyebrows and delicately fashioned nose. . . . .

Her every waking thought was of those two, and her dreams, most of them, of him.

The thought rose to taunt her that but for her unconquerable pride, he would have been hers. . . . Happiness had been within her grasp, and she had let it go, and that was the greatest tragedy that life contained. . .

She fashioned bitter thought into words: "And he said I was marrying for money . . . selling myself for a mess of pottage. He was cruel; he tramped on me with his heel; he didn't care or he wouldn't have hurt me so."

Of a sudden she rose, passing her hand nervously across her forehead, and took her work into Mr. Hilton's office and laid it on his desk.

When she came back she sat a while in thought, the back of her hand pressed tightly against her lips. . .

"If only I had it to do over again," she said, "I would never let it go again."

And then: "If it is not too late, God, please don't let it be too late."

Hurriedly then, before she could change her mind, she wrote him a letter, her cheeks the while as bloodless as the paper she wrote on. And the letter was a complete surrending of the last vestige of her pride. . . .

Abjectly it told that she loved him . . .that she had broken with Sam Church . . . that she would wait for a reply. . . . .

She sealed it and stamped it—a two-cent stamp and a special delivery—and, fearing that she would change her mind before she could reach the letter box, she rang the buzzer for the office boy. . . .

"Paul," she said when he appeared before her desk, "will you drop this in the mail box?"

"Yes, ma'am!" Paul was emphatic.

"Thank you," she said, and walked swiftly to the window, where she stood and gazed with unseeing eyes at the clouds that hung over the buildings of Springfield.

"Yes sir, Mr. Barnett." Paul stuck the letter in the inside pocket of his coat and quickly and quite completely forgot all about it.

* * *

Jimmy met Barry Colvin by appointment and the two went to dinner together.

"How about a show, Jimes?" suggested Barry when they left the restaurant and were walking along the street. "Something lively to cheer us up."

Jimmy was willing. His mind was filled with troubled thoughts. All through the dinner he had sat, wordless, as Barry chatted. He talked of the law business. He had had a busy day, he said. And Jimmy sat without hearing.

Barry said, looking intently at him as they stood in front of the theater: "I hope the show is good. It will have to be darned good to get you out of the dumps you seem to have fallen in."

Barry strolled to the window and bought the tickets. "Jed Black's here, Jim. He's my favorite comedian. I think he's the greatest master of pantomime on the stage today."

"Fine," said Jimmy, quite without enthusiasm.

"I've got a tough job ahead of me," went on Barry. "If I win this case, I'll have to be pretty good. I'm up against keen competition."

"Quite a feather in your cap if you win, eh? Well, here's hoping, Barry." There was a returning interest evident in Jimmy's voice.

"Yep. I met a smart lawyer today, Jim. A heck of a smart lawyer. His name was, lemme see. I'm not much good at names. Oh, yes, his name was Church—Samuel Church. A smart baby, Jim."

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, March 1.—Grain prices closed higher on the Chicago Board of Trade today. The most marked advances were made in the wheat pit which closed about 8 cents higher than yesterday's low.

The wheat close was up as high as 3 cents in the May new at the close. The noticeable and sudden rise in this grain is attributed directly to dispatches from Buenos Aires that the entire Argentine wheat crop is materially below weight and will require much mixing. At the same time Liverpool cables show that the market for American wheat in that port is advancing in lieu of the news of the poor quality of the Argentine crops. The undertone of the British market is strengthening in sympathy with the British market is strengthening in sympathy with the bullish Chicago pit.

Oats closed fractionally higher. The usual higher market in this grain was somewhat enlivened today more in sympathy with the wheat than anything else.

Provisions closed lower.

Feeble Old Folks Often Victims of Chronic Fatigue

Thousands of folks blame age for their weak, feeble, sickly condition—when in an enormous number of cases they are really suffering from chronic fatigue.

Chronic fatigue is an unnatural tired feeling—usually due to lack of sufficient organic iron in the blood. Nuxated Iron, which contains true organic iron like that in the blood and in spinach and lentils, quickly restores this iron and banishes chronic fatigue. It gives new strength and endurance in 2 weeks or money refunded. Will not injure teeth or disturb the stomach like old-fashioned mineral iron medicines. At all good druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD AND BANISHES CHRONIC FATIGUE

Man Sleeps Like Log, Eats Anything

"After taking Adlerika I can eat anything and sleep like a log. I had gas on the stomach and couldn't keep food down nor sleep." (Signed) R. C. Miller. ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings surprising relief to the stomach. Stops that full, bloated feeling. Often brings out old waste matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for chronic constipation.—Koch Pharmacy. In Pickering, A. F. Lett, Druggist.—Adv.

GROWING OLD TOO FAST?

Many Maryville Folks Feel Older and Slower Than They Should.

Are you weak, tired, all worn-out? Do you feel years older than other folks of your age? Then look to your kidneys! The kidneys are the blood-filters and if they weaken, the effect is quickly felt. You have constant backache, headaches, dizziness and urinary troubles. You feel lame, stiff and achy—all played out. Don't wait! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Read what this Maryville resident says:

J. N. Bryan, 222 W. 11th St., says: "My kidneys were out of order for a long time. I had dull pains in the small of my back and I could hardly get up from a chair as the pains were sharp and darting across my kidneys. Doan's pills cured me and I haven't been troubled since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Bryan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Glad He Picked This Good Stomach Remedy

Puts Stomach in Fine Condition—Ends Dizzy Spells, Catarrh and Makes You Sleep Well.

Injudicious eating causes acute indigestion, heartburn, heaviness and sour stomach—sometimes the distended stomach causes that dreadful feeling of near suffocation.

Isn't it worth something to know of a remedy that will stop this distress in a few minutes—quicker than anything else you can think of.

This is no common stomach remedy for it took years of time to combine Pepsin with the other effective agents that make Dare's Mentha-Pepsin so good that the worst cases of indigestion and gastritis and other chronic stomach ailments are speedily overcome and the most deranged stomachs are made clean, strong and healthy.

Mr. Calvin Dilks of Alloway, N. J., a man of few words, knows this for he writes: "I entirely rid myself of an old catarrhal condition of the stomach with Dare's Mentha-Pepsin."

No matter what your stomach trouble is get a bottle today at Koch Pharmacy or any druggist anywhere, with the distinct understanding that if it doesn't do you the world of good your money will be returned.—Adv.

Hopkins and Maryville B. I. L.'s Plan to Join in Entertaining P. E. O. Chapters

A joint meeting of the Maryville and Hopkins chapters of P. E. O., as guests of the B. I. L's, has been proposed and probably will be held early this summer, according to this week's issue of the Hopkins Journal.

The joint meeting was suggested by a "self appointed committee" of Maryville B. I. L.s, who accused the Hopkins "he-members" of being "cheap johns" for not entertaining the P. E. O.s "once in every five years." The letter from Maryville, according to Editor Moorhead, was as follows:

"Maryville, Mo., March 8, 1926.
"W. L. Moorhead:

"We saw in the paper the other day that the 'He-members' of the P. E. O. Society at Hopkins have never entertained the ladies.

"We don't understand how you B. I. L.'s can be such a set of 'cheap Johns.' Now, down here we are extra nice to the P. E. O.'s. We put on a big blowout for them about once every five years. In face, they have been running here twenty years and we have entertained them four times and we have done all this in face of the fact that the women hardly ever turn a hand to entertain us. Really, they only entertain us three times a year and we feel in view of our elaborate entertainment' they should do more.

"Seriously, Mr. Moorhead, what would you think of planning a joint meeting of the B. I. L.s of Hopkins with those of Maryville, the meeting to be held early next summer in some shady nook near Pickering when we could act as hosts to the P. E. O.'s of the two towns?

"Yours in the faith,
"A. K. Frank
J. O. Dragoo
F. P. Reuillard
F. L. Garrett
Self-Appointed Com."

To which Mr. Moorhead responds as follows:

"We have taken the matter up with several of the B. I. L.'s of Hopkins and they all express their willingness as well as pleasure in joining with the B. I. L.'s of the county seat in pulling off a stunt of the character mentioned in the above communication. The B. I. L.'s here feel ashamed of having been so dilatory in showing their appreciation of the many favors shown them by the P. E. O.'s and will go their length in an effort to make this joint meeting one long to be remembered by those in whose honor it is to be given, so choose your weapons, name the date and we'll sure be there with bells for we love P. (artaking) E. (normously) O.(ccasionally) either as guest or host, so all come with belts loose."

So the affair seems to be on.

A marriage license has been issued in Kansas City to Fred Swanson, Lake View, Ia., 24, and Mary Anthony, Hopkins, Mo., 23.

Nodaway County Angus Breeder Sells Yearling Steers-Heifers at $9.40

T. Medsker, farmer, feeder and shipper of Nodaway county, marketed a load of purebred Aberdeen Angus calves, steers and heifers, averaging 674 pounds and good enough to bring $9.40 per cwt. Mr. Medsker was well pleased with the sale of the drove. He raised the calves from his own herd, feeding corn and cottonseed cake from weaning time until they were a year old. He raises not only Angus cattle for market, but sells bulls and heifers for stock and show purposes in his part of the state with considerable success. He is a good booster of the local market; making this his market exclusively, and the Journal his favorite market paper.
